PODCASTING

Engage the MUD community through our MUDDY podcast.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

Podcaster
Podcast Editor

MUD

Podcasting/Podcast Editor Intern

MUD Magazine is seeking enthusiastic, creative, and resourceful interns to join our creative team. The ideal candidates are full of fresh ideas, have strong opinions about everything pop culture, check their Instagram constantly, and stay up-to-date with internet trends. Strong communication and organizational skills are a must.

Location: Remote
Hours: 10 hours a week. This a flexible, part-time internship. Meetings will take place once a week between 5 and 8 PM. Due to the flexible nature of this internship, we encourage student-athletes, international students, and all college students to apply.
Duration: Summer is from June 1st - August 31st. Fall is from September 1st - December 20th.

• This is an unpaid, for-credit internship.

Podcast Intern

Responsibilities

• Pitch segment and guest ideas for the podcast during meetings
• Edit 30 minute-long episodes on a weekly basis
• Analyze audience stats and develop strategies to generate engagement
• Conceptualize attention-grabbing podcast titles and descriptions
• Help prepare and record podcast episodes
• Work closely with social media and marketing team to promote a consistent image across all platforms
• Conduct interviews with celebrities and internet personalities

Requirements

• College student with eligibility for credit
• Desire to learn more about the magazine publishing process
• Good sense of humor, open to cover out-of-the-box topics, knowledge on internet trends
• Strong writing and communication skills

SUMMER APPLICANTS
Please email your resume to internship@themudmag.com by April 12th. Please include appropriate social media channels.

FALL APPLICANTS
Please email your resume to internship@themudmag.com by April 20th. Please include appropriate social media channels.

All class years are welcome to apply. If you don't have previous experience, please include why you wish to apply in the email.